

The Seminar in Review

ASIS Central Pennsylvania Chapter 79 held our Annual Seminar, Executive Development for the Security Professional: A Leadership Seminar, on May 20, 2011, from 8:00 AM to 3:30 PM, at the Hershey Country Club.

We had 79 register & pay for the seminar, 73 actually attended.

We had 9 paying exhibitors and 2 speakers exhibited for a total of 11 exhibitors, and 4 sponsors.

A Special Thank You goes to the sponsors of the Attendee Name Badges, M3T and The Hershey Company for supplying the special treats.

A special thanks should go to Allissa Plant of Pro Barrier Engineering for her help.

A thank you should go to the Seminar Committee: Beth Elliot, Vince Babich, and Ken Johnson.

A thank you should go to Steve Kristovensky. He handled the hotel accommodations for the out of town speaker. (I had nothing to do with him winning the Grand Prize!)

A big thank you should go to Dave Sherrid. He did an excellent MC job.

A thank you should go to Rick Kovalik for handling the awards and the newly created Fallen Hero award.

A thank you should go to Samantha Whipkey. She was the "go to" person at M3T Corp.

A thank you should go to Chris Cooper, Gwen Weaver and their staff. The high quality of service that the Hershey Country Club provides is why we keep going back there.

As the Program Chairperson, I am not aware of any complaints about the seminar. It succeeded because the members of this organization fully supported it. Certainly made my job easier.

Chairman's Comments

Secretary's Report (Monthly Minutes)

Dear Fellow ASIS Chapter 79 Members,

The May 20th Chapter 79 Annual Seminar on Leadership garnered one of our highest participation levels seen in recent years. Thank you to all who diligently prepared and presented this event for the benefit of our members. We also thank all the participants, sponsors and exhibitors who contributed time and resources and certainly hope in return, they benefited from the day both personally and professionally.

Survey results of the seminar seemed to be in line with the comments heard during the day: 29 respondents replied to the survey – 45% selected GOOD and 55% selected EXCELLENT. Speaker feedback was also strong: 2 speakers had 100% selecting MET EXPECTATIONS, 1 had 93%, 1 had 82% and one had 79%.

The Chapter received a new banner reflecting our selection for Newsletter of the Year from ASIS International headquarters. Along with the banner a check in the amount of $300 has been awarded; to be deposited into the Chapter general fund.

Reminder that there will be no Chapter meeting or functions during the month of July. After the June 16th Chapter meeting, we will again gather in August.

Please consider making plans now to attend the ASIS International Annual Seminar in Orlando, Florida in September.

Once again I would like to encourage members to consider stepping into board positions in the coming year. Now that the main event of the year has been accomplished, the summer months are a great time to connect with the chapter chair or current board members to speak about your level of interest in volunteer leadership positions that best suit your skills and time available. As I have stated, more and different members making their contribution to the chapter via giving of their time and resources can only make our chapter better and increase its overall value to members.

Please do not hesitate to contact me or any Board member with suggestions that might assist Chapter 79 and its members.

Respectfully yours,

John Maffey

Trooper Brian J. Livingston
Pennsylvania State Police
ASIS International Central Pennsylvania Chapter # 79
2010 Law Enforcement Officer of the Year

The ASIS International Central Pennsylvania Chapter # 79 Law Enforcement Officer of the Year award is given annually to recognize a deserving law enforcement officer, and to increase public awareness of the combined efforts of law enforcement personnel and professional security personnel in the safeguarding of public safety.

The award is based on his/her achievements, successes, and leadership in the law enforcement profession, as well as measures of self-improvement, positive involvement in civic affairs, and/or the performance of deeds above and beyond the call of duty.

The winner of the 2010 Law Enforcement Officer of the Year Award is Trooper Brian J. Livingston of Troop H, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania State Police. Trooper Livingston was nominated by Captain William A. Horgas, Commanding Officer, Troop "H", and is accompanied today by his wife Betsy.

Throughout his career, Trooper First Class Livingston has been recognized and commended for a variety of accomplishments by Commissioners, Governors, Lt. Governors, Commanders and Supervisors. In addition to being active with his church youth group, coaching little league baseball, serving as a Field Training Officer, and being a dedicated father and husband, TFC Livingston has taken the initiative to acquire training as an interdiction officer to supplement his responsibilities while performing Commercial Vehicle Inspections. Throughout his years of dedicated service, he received numerous awards and letters for various positive actions that included Troop and Area Commanders' Letters of Appreciation. On two occasions during his career, TFC Livingston apprehended a homicide suspect. He has also been cited in the past for saving the life of a suicidal individual he located in a heavily wooded area of state game lands.

On January 31, 2010, Trooper First Class Brian J. Livingston and Motor Carrier Enforcement Supervisor Chad E. Ronk were performing commercial vehicle inspections at the Grantville Weigh Station along Interstate 81 in Dauphin County. With less than 30 minutes remaining in their shift, two commercial vehicles were observed traveling north on Interstate 81 after driving past the weigh station and failing to obey traffic control devices directing all trucks to enter. A traffic stop of both vehicles was conducted and 6,500 pounds of marijuana was seized.

TFC Livingston stopped the vehicles and MCES Ronk responded to assist. After a brief conversation with the operators of both vehicles, it became abundantly clear that suspicious activity was afoot. Upon inspection of the documents, TFC Livingston and MCES Ronk observed different style font in the body of the document which led them to suspect that the documents had been altered. In addition, the driver log books were not current to the last change of duty status and neither drive could answer simple questions. With their suspicions confirmed, the actors were subjected to further scrutiny and a comprehensive check of criminal databases. One of the actors was previously arrested for possession of 1,000 pounds of marijuana.

Consent to search was obtained and a canine summoned. The canine alerted to one of the trailers and a subsequent search revealed 6 wooden crates containing 6,500 pounds of marijuana. The approximate street value of the illegal drugs is 25 million dollars, making this traffic stop the largest interdiction seizure in Pennsylvania history. Both men were convicted earlier this year on drug-trafficking charges that could net them life sentences.

TFC Livingston continually exhibits leadership and values that support his nomination for the Law Enforcement Officer of the Year. His accomplishments and recognition are a credit to the Pennsylvania State Police and the Commonwealth which he serves.

Brian is a graduate of Indian Area High School and is a veteran of the United States Air Force. He graduated from the PA State Police Academy in Hershey on February 21, 1992, and was assigned to Troop "H" Harrisburg Patrol Unit from 1992 to 2004. He was selected for the Troop "H" Harrisburg - Commercial Vehicle Enforcement Unit in 2004, and is currently enrolled to become an Instructor with the United States Department of Transportation, Federal Motor Carrier Safety Assistance, Drug Interdiction Assistance Program.

Brian resides in Hershey with his wife Betsy and their three children.

Wildlife Conservation Officer David L. Grove
Pennsylvania Game Commission
ASIS International Central Pennsylvania Chapter # 79
2010 Fallen Hero of the Year

The ASIS International Central Pennsylvania Chapter # 79 Fallen Hero of the Year tribute will be given annually to recognize a deserving law enforcement officer who has made the ultimate Sacrifice while serving the citizens of this Commonwealth. It is not how this officer died that made him a hero, it is how he lived. May we never forget their bravery and dedication, and forever keep them and their families in our hearts. This is the first year this acknowledgment is being presented.

Pennsylvania Game Commission Wildlife Conservation Officer David L. Grove was shot and killed in the line of duty while on patrol around 10:30 p.m., on Nov. 11, along Shrivvers Road in Freedom Township, Adams County. Grove, age 31, of Fairfield, Adams County, was investigating reports of ongoing night-time shooting and possible poaching activity in the area.

Governor Edward G. Rendell had ordered state flags at half-staff until WCO Grove was laid to rest on November 21 and he attended the funeral. Officers across the continent flooded the Game Commission with messages of sympathy and condolences. Law enforcement officers from every state attended the funeral. Citizens came out in great numbers to attend service and lined the route from the Waynesboro Area Senior High School to the Green Hill Cemetery to pay their respects to WCO Grove and his family.

WCO Grove was a bright, young officer who had dedicated his life to wildlife and the great outdoors. He loved to be around folks who shared his passions of hunting, fishing and wildlife conservation, and he took every opportunity to make a difference, whether as a hunter education instructor, a field officer or a private citizen. He even wrote for Pennsylvania Game News magazine.

A graduate of the 27th Class of the Game Commission's Ross Leffler School of Conservation, WCO Grove was commissioned a full-time Wildlife Conservation Officer on March 8, 2008, and assigned to the southern district of Adams County. Before being appointed a WCO Cadet, Grove had served as a Deputy WCO in Franklin County, from 2001 until 2007. Grove also worked at the Penn State University Deer Research Facility in University Park, Centre County, from 2003 until 2004.

Grove graduated, in 1997, from Grace Academy in Hagerstown, Maryland, and he attended Appalachian Bible College, in Bradley, West Virginia, from 1997 until 1999. In 2004, Grove earned a bachelor's degree in wildlife and fisheries science from Penn State University.

Born March 5, 1979, in Chambersburg, he was the son of Dana S. and Lucy R. (Straub) Grove of Waynesboro. David was a member of Independent Bible Church in Martinsburg, West Virginia, and attended services at Otterbein Church, Waynesboro. He was also a member of the Conservation Police Officers Lodge #114, the Fraternal Order of the Police, Greencastle Sportsman's Association, and the Blue Ridge Sportsman's Association. He loved hunting, fishing and the Pittsburgh Steelers and Penguins.

We are honored to have with us today, in addition to his parents, his brother, Chad M. Grove and his wife Anna of Martinsburg, West Virginia; his sister, Jennifer M. Grove, of Waynesboro; and his girlfriend, Angela R. Heare of Falling Waters, West Virginia. Also in attendance representing the PA Game Commission are Mr. R. Matthew Hough, Deputy Executive Director and Mr. Jason L. DeCoskey, Chief, Enforcement Division, Bureau of Wildlife Protection.

David's mother, Ms. Dana Grove will be accepting the plaque on behalf of the Grove family.

David W Crozier
Central Pennsylvania Chapter #79 of ASIS International
2010 Chapter Member of the Year

The Chapter Member of the Year Award is given annually to a member of ASIS International Central Pennsylvania Chapter #79. This is the third year this award is being presented to recognize a member of the Chapter who has contributed the most to the status, success, mission and core values of ASIS International and this Chapter.

The winner of the 2010 Chapter Member of the Year Award is Mr. David W Crozier, Rite Aid Corporation, Inc. David is being recognized for his leadership and accomplishments, and many contributions to the Chapter. He can always be counted on to volunteer for challenging projects. David likes to share the following quote from Benjamin Franklin "By failing to prepare you are preparing to fail."

David currently serves as the ASIS Chapter 79 Newsletter Editor and Annual Golf Outing Organizer. Since his assuming the role of the Golf Outing Organizer, the Chapter has netted over $8,000 to be used to support our mission of education and giving back to the membership and community. In his first full year serving as Newsletter Editor, the Chapter won Newsletter of the Year. Subsequently, the Newsletter was revamped using Microsoft Publisher, and the efforts were noticed, as the Chapter again received the Newsletter of Year Award. Additionally, he recommended a scholarship award be designated for a chapter member to attend the Annual International Seminar, in honor of one of the most prestigious members, Milton "Mick" Moritz for his involvement and dedication to the educational aspirations of the security professional. David is a firm believer in giving back to the chapter, as he feels the chapter has given so much to him.

David has been an ASIS Central PA Chapter #79 member since 2005. He has served in leadership positions since 2009.

David is the Loss Prevention Manager in the Central PA market for Rite Aid and serves 52 stores in a geographic region that spans from Lebanon to State College, to Ebensburg and to Greencastle. In that position, he works closely with the District Managers and Pharmacy District Managers, and with the local law enforcement communities, as well as other government agencies. Prior to that, he was a Loss Prevention Data Mining Analyst and served in that position for approximately one year, before seeking promotion to the field level.

David began study at Eastern Kentucky University, where he obtained a MS in Safety, Security, and Emergency Management. He is currently enrolled at University of Phoenix, pursuing a MIS, Master's of Information Systems. He also holds a BS in psychology from Penn State University and is currently studying to test for the ASIS CPP certification.

David lives in Enola with his wife of 13 years, Rose. The couple has 4 children, Amelia, age 7; Abigail, age 5; Olivia, age 3; and Shane, age 1.

Certifications

For years the world has recognized a need for competent professionals who can effectively manage complex security issues that threaten people and the assets of corporations, governments, and public and private institutions. As the emphasis on protecting people, property, and information increases, it has strengthened the demand for professional managers. To meet these needs, the ASIS International administers the Certified Protection Professional program.

Nearly 10,000 professionals have earned the designation of CPP®. This group of professionals has demonstrated its competency in the areas of security solutions and best-business practices through an intensive qualification and testing program. As a result, these men and women have been awarded the coveted designation of CPP®, and are recognized as proven leaders in their profession.

Employers, whether in private business or in public law enforcement, demand finely-honed investigative skills and more thorough case management.

The new investigations certification will help employers identify those professionals who have the specific, in-depth competency and knowledge required not only to get the job done - but to get it done right.

The investigations examination is targeted to security professional whose primary responsibility is to conduct investigations. It consists of multiple-choice questions covering tasks, knowledge, and skills in:

- Case Management
- Evidence Collection
- Case Presentation

Today's employers want highly-trained professionals who have solid, hands-on experience with both current and emerging security technologies and solutions. This means that there are multiple areas in which physical security specialists must be knowledgeable.

The physical security certification will separate those who have this technical background from those who do not, giving them that professional edge.

The physical security examination is targeted to security professionals whose primary responsibility is to conduct threat surveys; design integrated security systems that include equipment, procedures, and people; or install, operate, and maintain those systems. The test consists of multiple-choice questions covering tasks, knowledge, and skills in:

- Physical Security Assessment
- Application, Design and Integration of Physical Security Systems
- Implementation of Physical Security Measures
