Chairman's Message:

As Chapter Chair I would like to introduce the new ASIS International Central Pennsylvania Chapter #79 Newsletter. Special thanks to John Liken for agreeing to serve as the interim editor. As members of the chapter, I encourage you to submit information to John for the newsletter. This may include security related original articles, job openings or training events in the central Pennsylvania area. Member achievements may also be submitted for the newsletter. If interest in the Editor position contact the Chapter Chair.

As we progress into 2022 there are two special activities the chapter will undertake. The annual Chapter Seminar scheduled for October 20, 2022 and the annual Security Officer and Law Enforcement Officer of the Year Awards scheduled for November 17, 2022. To accomplish these missions there will need to be a committee for each. Vice Chair Robert F. Granzow, CPP will take the lead on the seminar but he will need additional members to serve on that committee. Contact the Chapter Vice Chair if interested. There is also a requirement for a chapter Security Officer and Law Enforcement Officer of the Year Awards committee. The chapter is seeking a member to take the lead and other members be part of that important committee. Contact the Chapter Chair if interested.

As we move out of the pandemic, I look forward to seeing all of you in person at the chapter meetings and events this year. We have a great team of elected officers who have been working hard to provide a positive chapter meeting experience. The takeaways include excellent educational speakers, certificates of attendance, a nice breakfast and professional networking. Be positive thinker and support the chapter and our profession by attending. As Sir Winston Churchill said. "The positive thinker sees the invisible, feels the intangible, and achieves the impossible." As we move into the new year, carry on and step lively.

Daniel J. Benny, Ph.D., CPP, PCI

Chapter Chair

Professional Resources & Development Opportunities:

Active Shooter Training and Response continues to be premier topic for security professionals. At all levels in all industry, educational institutions, medical facilities and religious orders there's a need to be cognizant of the latest information as to how to plan for and mitigate potential active shooter events.

The second edition of Active Shooter Response Training: Lone Wolf to Coordinated Attack by Scott Hyderkhan takes all of the information provided in its first release and provides law enforcement agencies, private security teams, security professionals, training organizations, police leaders and corporate security leaders with expanded information about training for active shooter response.

Reviewed by Michael White, CPP. See Michael White's review at the ASIS International website.

Member Accomplishments:

Any member who has received an award, accolade or security related certification should forward information about that to the newsletter editor so we can recognize that accomplishment.

Meet the Membership:

Every month we'll introduce one or more members to provide broader exposure to the individual resources and potential benchmarking opportunities available right within our Chapter.

Sharing our knowledge or just expanding the network, we can all improve our professional stature. Our first 'Meet the Membership' candidate is Robert 'Rob' Granzow, CPP. While Rob is currently our Chapter Vice Chairperson, it's only his latest contribution to the Chapter. He served as Chapter Chairperson some years ago and was active in development and management of several annual Chapter seminars.

Rob currently serves as the Administrator for the Office of Judicial District Security at the Pennsylvania Supreme Court's Administrative Office of Pennsylvania Courts (AOPC). In his present position, he provides strategic guidance and operational leadership in all matters related to the security of the Commonwealth's 60 judicial districts, comprised of 67 trial courts and 512 limited jurisdiction courts.

Prior to joining the AOPC, Rob was employed as a senior global security manager with a multinational corporation where he led enterprise-wide security risk management initiatives and corporate investigations, and was specifically responsible for the evaluation, recommendation and implementation of multi-layered asset protection provisions for facilities, personnel and resources throughout EMEA, Mexico, Canada and the United States.

Rob holds a master's degree in criminal justice from St. Joseph's University and has completed several management and leadership programs. He was honored as a recipient of Security Magazine's 'Most Influential People in Security' in 2021.

Rob and his family are outdoor enthusiasts with interests that include fly fishing, river canoeing and wetlands conservation.
